

Take One Picture 2018

As you may know, each year at Clapham Manor we take part in a whole school project called Take One Picture, which focuses on a particular piece of artwork in the National Gallery. Last year we were inspired by Rubens's Roman Triumph. If you haven't already seen it, there is still time to view some of our children's work from the project. It will be on display at the Gallery until the 24th September.

Penelope with the Suitors by Pintoricchio

Date made about 1509

Located in Room 60 of the National Gallery

This year, the picture chosen is Penelope with the Suitors by the artist Pintoricchio. To kick off the project, some of the children from our Nursery had the opportunity to do some weaving, just like Penelope (the figure in blue) from the picture.
