

Governor Profile

Name	Ben Dickey
Category of governor	Co-opted Governor
Term of office	December 2014 - December 2018
Work	I have been professionally involved in education for over 30 years as a writer and producer of educational TV and for online. I also ran the government panel called Foresight that looked at the future of learning in the UK, predicting the impact of computing and the internet on education! I have worked for every broadcaster and major provider in the UK and in many countries around the world. In that time I have also worked with hundreds of schools across most subjects and aspects of learning. This gives me a broad overview of the most pressing issues in education as well as the reality of teachers' lives and concerns of parents. My network of academics, practitioners and suppliers to education means that I can draw on their expertise as well, especially to think about the future of learning and schools. Recently I have been creating resources for 7-11 year olds for BBC Teach about Growth Mindset, something Clapham Manor is very keen on. He is also creating online learning resources for post-16 which gives him an insight into the world of apprenticeships and early careers.
Links to the school/area	My connection with Clapham Manor goes back my two children benefitting from the special learning and caring environment of the school when they were at primary age - sadly long gone. My association with the school has continued since that time and I still live and work in Clapham.
